

SHADE CONSULTING AND COUNSELLING PRESENTS

Relationship and Sexuality Policy Development

Description

Can agency policies demonstrate values and ethics? Relationship and sexuality policies can. Having a relationship and sexuality policy within disability agencies is an opportunity to demonstrate to the individuals you support that their sexuality and their relationships are important. A sex positive policy shows them and your staff that you value them.

Learning Goals

After this workshop you will be able to

- describe the basic components of a relationship and sexuality policy.
- examine the benefits of the creation and utilization of a relationship and sexuality policy for your agency.
- defend the value of a relationship and sexuality policy for your agency as it pertains to the individuals you serve and your staff.

Format

This workshop is available for a three-hour or full day presentation.

It can be presented online or in-person.

Dr. Margaret Newbury Jones has worked in the disability community for her whole career. She is known for her outstanding, interactive workshops. She works as a trauma counsellor, sexuality educator, and trainer with SHADE Consulting and Counselling.

Interested in this workshop for your organization?
Contact us to discuss your needs and for a quotation.

info@shadeconsulting.ca

778-215-0132

www.shadeconsulting.ca

©SHADE Consulting and Counselling 2023